

Georgia Journal of International & Comparative Law

The Georgia Journal of International and Comparative Law is published three times yearly, and covers areas of private and public international law. The Journal is designed to be of value not only to specialists in international and comparative law, but also to practitioners who are confronted with the increasing frequency of international issues in local practice.

Under the guidance of its two faculty advisors, Professor Dean Rusk, former United States Secretary of State, and Professor Gabriel Wilner, former Legal Consultant to the Technology Division of UNCTAD, the Journal has acquired a reputation as one of the top periodicals in the field. In addition to its broad coverage of current international topics, the Journal has recently initiated an emphasis on international trade law with the publication of an annual survey of recent developments in trade.

The Journal is distributed to six continents and thirty-four countries. Subscribers include domestic universities, colleges, public libraries, law firms, corporations, government offices, foundations, international organizations and individuals.

LAW AND POLICY IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Law and Policy in International Business is the international journal of Georgetown University Law Center. Its purpose is to analyze the laws and policies of governments and international organizations as they affect transactional business and economics. Law and Policy has firmly established itself as the foremost journal in its field, with the largest number of regular subscribers of all student international law journals. Issued four times a year by a student staff, Law and Policy publishes lead articles, book reviews, and student notes and comments on recent developments in such diverse areas as international trade, antitrust, securities regulation, labor, tax, environmental and transportation law.

Issue 3 of volume 16 is devoted to a symposium on the Iran-United States Claim Tribunal with a foreword written by the Honorable Judge Pierre Bellet. Articles include:

- * The Iran-United States Claims Tribunal: A Review of Developments 1983-84, by David P. Stewart
- * Review of Proceedings and Awards of the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal: Are the Tribunal's Awards Dutch? by William Lake and Jane Tucker Dana
- * The Expropriation Issue for the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal: Is "Just Compensation" Required by International Law or Not? by Brice Clagett
- * Causation As An Element of State Responsibility, by Michael Straus, and
- * Standby Letters of Credit in the Iranian Litigation: 200 Problems in Search of a Solution, by Mark Zimmert.
